

Darryl Edward Smith July 12, 2010

Meet Darryl Smith, our newest red badger and who's in aerospace and the program manager and principal for ERC here. While many of us came from someplace else, Darryl Smith has lived in Houston all his life and is a third generation Houstonian.

He's a graduate of Booker T. Washington High School for the Engineering Professions and Lamar University, where he majored in math and minored in computer science. He's also certified in secondary education.

Darryl has worked in aerospace all his adult life, starting out as an intern for NASA in 1979. Before joining ERC some years back, he worked for Singer-Link, Lockheed Martin, United Space Alliance and Boeing. Along the way, he served as a first lieutenant in the Texas State Guard, was a Big Brothers Big Sisters volunteer and served as division governor of Toastmasters International. Darryl is a past president of the Bronze Eagles of Texas flying club serves on several Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership committees and is a merit badge instructor for the Boy Scouts of America.

He has been married for 23 years to his wife Monique, who is an engineering manager for an aerospace contractor. They have two children - daughter Veronica is a nursing student at Stephen F. Austin State University and their son, Anthony is majoring in business at the University of Texas.
